CARRANZA AVOIDS IMMEDIATE BREAK WITH UNCLE SAM

AMERICAN DEMAND FOR RELEASE OF 23 TROOPERS GRANTED.

Whether State of War With Mexico Has Been Prevented or Merely Postponed Is Not Yet Known. Rush of Guards to Border Not Checked.

PREPARATIONS TO GO STEADILY FORWARD AS IF ATTACK IS STILL EXPECTED.

Washington, June 28.—An immediate break between the United States and the de facto government of Mexico has been averted by compliance with the American demand for the release of the 23 troopers captured in the fight at Carrizal, whether a state of war has been prevented or merely postponed no one here would attempt to say tonight.

Official information as to the attitude of General Carranza was lacking until his response to Secretary Lansing's note, dispatched Sunday, making two peremptory and distinct demands, is received there will be no decision as to whether President Wilson will lay the basis for Congress.

News of the release of the prisoners received early tonight in press dispatches brought undisputed relief to high officials. It was accepted as correct, although no announcement had come through official sources. Moreover, it was assumed that Carranza, impressed with the urgency of the situation, had ordered the captured cavalrymen started for the border without waiting for his announcement of the action to reach Washington.

Move Lessens the Tension
While it generally is conceded that this move lessens tension and makes the crisis less imminent no one conversant with the grave problem is losing sight of the fact that the all-important question of Carranza's attitude toward the American expedition across the border to protect the territory and citizens of the United States from bandit outrages remains unsettled. If the de facto government stands upon the order to General Trevino to attack Pershing's men when the move otherwise than toward the border, the situation actually is just what it was before, except that there now is a possibility of diplomatic negotiations that did not exist while the Americans were held prisoners.

The preparation of the United States for war will go steadily forward. There will be no interruption of the rush of national guardsmen to the border and General Funston will continue disposing of the forces under his command as though he expected an immediate attack from the Mexicans.

Carranza Avoiding Break
The fact that Carranza has complied with one of the demands is accepted by the more optimistic officials here as an indication that he is striving to prevent a break. Even though he again should attempt to place all blame for the Carrizal fight upon the American officers and insist upon his right forcibly to oppose any except northward movements of American troops, it is thought that possibly he will state his position in such a way as to make further discussion necessary.

During any negotiations, however, the United States will insist upon freedom of movement of the troops in Mexico and any attempt to interfere with them will be met by such force as is necessary. This will apply, too, to any period of delay occasioned by attempts to arrange mediation or arbitration.

The possibility of Latin-American offers of mediation in the crisis again was widely discussed tonight. Ignacio Calles, minister from Bolivia, will make a second call upon Secretary Lansing tomorrow to discuss the subject. He will endeavor to ascertain for the benefit of himself and his colleagues whether tenders of good offices by the South and Central American republics would be entertained at this time.

Unwilling to Discuss It
The minister said, after his first conference with Secretary Lansing Monday, that he understood the United States to be unwilling even to discuss the subject of mediation or arbitration while the captured American troops remained in custody.

It is known that powerful influences have been brought to bear on Carranza in the past few days to make him at least turn over the American prisoners. Prominent Mexicans in the United States, as well as American bankers and business interests with influence in Mexican affairs, have flooded the chief with messages. They all sent him the same warning—that the United States government meant business and that to hold the prisoners would mean war.

Secretary Baker waited at the War Department until late tonight for a report from General Funston on General Trevino's announcement that he had sent the cavalrymen to Juarez to be set free. He finally went home without a report.

Has Not Studied Notes
Secretary Lansing had not studied today the trio of communications submitted to the Department within the last 24 hours by Eliseo Arrendondo, the Mexican Ambassador designate. They protest against the alleged actions of a large column of General Pershing's men toward Mexican citizens, against the arrest of other Mexicans in the United States, and against the general embargo, effective without proclamation, stopping virtually all shipments to Mexico.

The protests are being treated as routine matters in the State Department. Two of them relating to alleged improper treatment of Mexican

COAL YARDS

Of Farrow and Company Sold Out to Mr. Thomas Hise and Mrs. Kate Little, Who Will Open a First Class Coal Yard at Once.

A deal has been completed by Farrow and Company to sell their coal yard to Mr. Thomas Hise and Mrs. Kate Little. They will open a coal and sand yard as soon as a shipment can be received from the mines. Farrow and Company recently purchased the coal yard from the bankrupt George W. McDaniel & Co. Coal Co. and since then have made some extensive improvements in the property. They had intended to start a coal and sand yard in the late summer in connection with their contracting business, but feeling that both could not be run together with any degree of success they decided to sell out the yards.

Mr. Hise and his sister, Mrs. Little, are well known to Mayville and Mason county people and are energetic hustlers. Mr. Hise will be the active member of the firm. They expect to receive a shipment of coal about the first of next week and will open to the public when it arrives. The Ledger joins with their many friends in wishing them success in their new venture and hope that they will continue the business for a long time.

Mr. A. G. Sulser is spending the day in Frankfort.
